This is an invitation to international teams including trainers, teachers, organizers and translators.

We will explore the territory of teamwork and team building: communication, handling conflict, team process.

What are the requirements and responsibilities of trainers, teachers and organizers?

Where do we need consistency in the international trainings?

What are the processes and requirements for certification?

What are some creative alternatives for Hakomi workshops and trainings?

Ron will provide an update on the Hakomi Method.

New exercises and training manuals will be distributed.

We will discuss ethics and processes for resolutions of issues.

What are the simple rules that will allow us to fly together effectively, to maintain a balance of consistency and creativity,
to stay updated and connected with each other?

Registrations begin September 20, 2010
